Spanish

MAJOR, MINOR

PROFESSOR: Alison Ridley
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR: Ángel Díaz Miranda (chair, Modern Languages)
VISITING ASSISTANT PROFESSOR: Juan Manuel Portillo
LANGUAGE ASSISTANT: Ana Herrera

Students majoring in Spanish at Hollins will be able to express themselves articulately in oral and written Spanish, understand and appreciate the cultures and values of the Spanish-speaking world, and exhibit strong analytical skills. Spanish majors are prepared for careers in a variety of fields such as business, marketing, government, law, international relations, and education. They also have the solid academic background necessary to enroll in graduate programs in Hispanic studies. Our faculty members offer a diverse curriculum in language, literature, and Hispanic cultures, as well as business and special topics courses. During Short Term, many majors and minors carry out internships, travel abroad, or undertake independent studies.

Spanish majors are required to study abroad in a Spanish-speaking country. Hollins has affiliated programs in Argentina, Puerto Rico, Cuba, Chile, and three sites in Spain: Seville, Alicante, and Barcelona, through Spanish Studies Abroad (see page 15). These programs offer students a wide variety of courses in literature, culture, political science, international relations, business, and history. Internships may be arranged at the Spanish Studies Abroad Argentina and Spain sites. See the International Programs website for more details.

SPANISH HOUSE, SPANISH LANGUAGE ASSISTANT, AND SPANISH CLUB
La Casa Hispánica is a residence for students interested in the Spanish language and Hispanic cultures. Each year a native Spanish speaker (a Fulbright scholar) comes to Hollins through the Institute of International Education to live in La Casa and to teach conversation skills to students in elementary, intermediate, and advanced language classes. This graduate student, who is an invaluable cultural resource, facilitates communication in Spanish and assists students in learning about Hispanic cultures. The Spanish Club organizes and sponsors on-campus events such as film festivals, tertulias, and tapas nights. Membership is open to all Hispanophiles on campus.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A MAJOR IN SPANISH:
8 courses (32 credits)* above the 100 level:

• 3 courses at the 300 level (12)
• SPAN 470 (4), or SPAN 480 (4), or SPAN 490 (4, 4) during the senior year
• 4 electives at the 200 or 300 level (16)

Other requirements:
• A study abroad experience in a Spanish-speaking country
• An e-portfolio of major work to be submitted during the student’s final semester
• All majors must take at least one 300- or 400-level course during the senior year

*The eight courses must comprise two culture courses, two language courses, two literature courses, and two courses from any of these designations. See individual course descriptions below for designations. Designated courses on our approved study abroad programs can also count toward these requirements.

Students who complete year-long senior honors theses are only required to complete two 300-level classes.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A MINOR IN SPANISH:
6 courses (24 credits)* above the 100 level:

• 2 300-level courses (8)
• 4 electives at the 200 or 300 level (16)

Minors are strongly encouraged to study abroad in a Spanish-speaking country
*The six courses must comprise at least one culture, one literature, and one language course. See individual course descriptions below for designations. Designated courses on our approved study abroad programs can also count toward these requirements.

A language placement test given before fall and spring orientation determines placement in Spanish courses. Qualified first-year students may take courses at the 200 level or above.

It is recommended that students round out the Spanish major with complementary courses in areas such as art, history, economics, business, the sciences, and non-Hispanic languages and literatures. SPAN 230, 231, 232, and 300-level literature courses may be taken more than once for credit, provided the content is different. Only independent studies approved by the chair of the Modern Languages Department will count toward the major or minor. SPAN 388: Teaching Foreign Languages does not count toward the Spanish major or minor because it is taught in English.

Students graduating with a major in Spanish will be able to: 1) express themselves articulately in oral and written Spanish; 2) demonstrate in-depth knowledge and understanding of at least one Hispanic culture; and 3) develop critical thinking skills in a second language. Senior majors will demonstrate they have achieved these three goals in one of the following ways: 1) by completing the Senior Seminar (SPAN 470), handing in a senior portfolio, and having an exit interview; or 2) by writing and defending a senior thesis, handing in a senior portfolio, and having an exit interview.

COURSES IN SPANISH:

SPAN 101, 102: ELEMENTARY SPANISH (4, 4) Portillo
This year-long course is an introduction to conversational Spanish, Hispanic cultures, writing, and grammar. In addition to three hours per week in class, students practice conversational skills for one hour each week with the language assistant. No previous Spanish required. Fulfills the language requirement for those who have not studied Spanish previously. 101 offered Term 1; 102 offered Term 2. (LAN)

SPAN 110: ACCELERATED ELEMENTARY SPANISH (4) Portillo
This elementary-level course condenses one year of Spanish into one semester and is designed for students who have studied Spanish previously but who need a comprehensive review of grammar and vocabulary at the introductory level. Students will learn about Hispanic cultures through readings, films, discussions, and events associated with Hispanic and Latino Heritage Month. In addition to traditional class time, students spend one hour each week with our Spanish language assistant. Fulfills the language requirement for those who have not previously studied Spanish. Prerequisite: placement or permission. Offered both terms. (LAN)

SPAN 111, 112: INTERMEDIATE SPANISH (4, 4) Díaz Miranda, Ridley
This year-long course is a review of grammar, an expansion of verbal and writing skills, and includes reading of literary selections. In addition to three hours per week in class, students practice conversational skills for one hour per week with the language assistant. Fulfills the language requirement for those who have previously studied Spanish. Prerequisite: placement, SPAN 101 and SPAN 102, SPAN 110, or permission. 111 offered Term 1; 112 offered Term 2. (LAN)

SPAN 121: ACCELERATED INTERMEDIATE SPANISH (4) Ridley
This course is a review of grammar, an expansion of verbal and writing skills, and includes reading of literary selections. In addition to three hours per week in class, students practice conversational skills for one hour per week with the language assistant. Fulfills the language requirement for those who have previously studied Spanish. Prerequisite: placement, excellent performance in SPAN 101 and SPAN 102, SPAN 110, or permission. Offered both terms. (LAN)

SPAN 216: HIP HOP: AMERICAS (4) Díaz Miranda
This course introduces students to the study of minoritarian American cultural production as it is traversed by the problematic aspects and the politics of ethnicity and identity in America after the Civil Rights Generation of the 1960s. This course will examine historical and cultural accounts of both African-American and Latino/a voices in Hip Hop. Latinos/as historically have been marginalized and remain outside of the racial-binary discourse constructed in the United States. Hip Hop culture reproduces this erasure. As these voices are incorporated into our study of Hip Hop music, dance, movies, and street art, students will understand how crucial the Latino/a presence has been in Hip Hop cultural productions.
After establishing these facts, the course will move into the analysis of new trends in Hip Hop music and culture produced and consumed in Latin America, Spain, and the United States. Designation: Culture course. Prerequisite: SPAN 112, SPAN 121, placement, or permission. Not offered in 2022-23.

SPAN 222: HISPANIC CULTURES: ARTIFACTS (4)
Díaz Miranda
Focus on the study of Hispanic cultures through visual media and material artifacts. The course will highlight the study of Hispanic paintings, monuments, films, and other current artistic production in their historical and cultural context. Topics explored include colonization and post-colonization, immigration, gender and physical roles, war, dictatorships, poverty, marginalization, trauma, exile, memory, and youth culture. Designation: Culture course. Prerequisite: placement, SPAN 112, SPAN 121, or permission. Offered Term 1.

SPAN 230: CONVERSATION AND COMPOSITION: FILM (4)
Díaz Miranda
Students will develop writing and speaking skills at an advanced level. This course uses Hispanic film as the springboard for conversation and composition. In addition to three hours per week in class, students practice conversation skills for one hour per week with the language assistant. Designation: Language/Culture course. Prerequisite: placement, SPAN 112, SPAN 121, or permission. Offered Term 2. (o, GLO)

SPAN 231: CONVERSATION AND COMPOSITION: TOPICS (4)
Díaz Miranda
Students will develop writing and speaking skills at an advanced level. The focus of this class is on controversial and/or timely topics that will generate discussion. In addition to three hours per week in class, students practice conversation skills for one hour per week with the language assistant. Designation: Language course. Prerequisite: placement, SPAN 112, SPAN 121, or permission. Not offered in 2022-23.

SPAN 232: CONVERSATION AND COMPOSITION: READINGS (4)
Díaz Miranda
Students will develop writing and speaking skills at an advanced level using Hispanic short stories as the point of departure. Class discussions about the readings and frequent short writing assignments will allow students to hone their speaking and writing abilities in Spanish. Designation: Language/Literature. Prerequisite: Placement, SPAN 112, SPAN 121, or permission. Not offered in 2022-23.

SPAN 236: SPANISH CULTURE AND CIVILIZATION (4)
Ridley
An introduction to the geography, history, art, literature, and society of Spain. Student research will result in a series of oral presentations in Spanish. Quizzes are also given. Designation: Culture course. Prerequisite: placement, SPAN 112, SPAN 121, or permission. Not offered in 2022-23. (o, MOD)

SPAN 238: LATIN-AMERICAN CULTURE AND CIVILIZATION (4)
Department
An introduction to the geography, history, and cultures of Latin America, as well as an overview of its social, political, and economic importance. Students will develop a critical understanding of Latin America through the study of cultural productions from a variety of disciplines such as literature, essays, film, art, music, and philosophy. Student research results in one substantial oral presentation, several short presentations, and a final project. Designation: Culture course. Prerequisites: placement, SPAN 112, SPAN 121, or permission. Not offered in 2022-23. (o, GLO)

SPAN 243: “NOCTURNIDAD Y VUELO”: SURVEY OF MODERN HISPANIC LITERATURE (4)
Díaz Miranda
This course offers an introduction to the literary and cultural production of Spain and Latin America, from the XVIII to the XX centuries, situating cultural products of the Hispanic world in their contexts of creation and consumption. Students will read and analyze literary texts (short stories, essays, poems) as well as visual works (paintings and films). The emphasis of the course is transatlantic and interdisciplinary. The discussions will focus on both the points of overlap and the divergences between the thought and culture of Latin America and Spain. Designation: Literature/Culture course. Prerequisite: SPAN 112, SPAN 121, placement, or permission. Not offered in 2022-23.

SPAN 250: SPECIAL TOPIC: FOOD AND HISPANIC CULTURE (4)
Ridley
The focus of this course is how food in the Hispanic world reflects a wide array of cultures and identities. We will study the history of food in both Spanish-America and Spain, as well as the transatlantic exchange of foods and food cultures. We will also learn how food relates to social class, ethnic identity, and religious beliefs. Students will watch documentaries, films, and cooking shows from around the Spanish-speaking world, as well as read articles on food culture and literature about food. Designation: Culture course. Prerequisite: SPAN 112, SPAN 121, placement, or permission. Offered Term 1.

SPAN 250: SPECIAL TOPIC: MOBILE BORDERS / MOVING BORDERS (4)
Portillo
The course is conceived as a journey guided by the idea of “the border.” Its framework and jumping-off point will be Latin-American history and culture. Students will adventure beyond geographical or national boundaries and explore class, gender, ethnicity, linguistic, legal, age, technological, and interspecies borders, among others. Our inquiry will include the study and discussion of written documents from literature and journalism, as well as films, maps, music, and art. In addition to written reports and exams, the class will build a collective reflection, documented in a blog or podcast, that will serve as a travel journal. Students will continually study how borders—even at their most radical imposition of separation—are only recognizable because there are common elements on both of its sides; it’s in that commonality where the potential for critique and change resides. Prerequisite: SPAN 112, SPAN 121, placement, or permission. Offered Term 2.

SPAN 251: SURVEY OF SPANISH LITERATURE I (4)
Ridley
A study of major literary works and authors from the 11th through the 17th centuries. Representative works include El poema de Mío Cid, El libro de buen amor, La Celestina, Lazarillo de Tormes, and Don Quijote. Designation: Literature course. Prerequisite: placement, SPAN 112, SPAN 121, or permission. Not offered in 2022-23.
(PRE)

SPAN 252: SURVEY OF SPANISH LITERATURE II (4)
Department
A study of major literary works and authors from the 19th century to the present. Representative authors include Espronceda, Bécquer, Galdós, Unamuno, and García Lorca. Designation: Literature course. Prerequisite: placement, SPAN 112, SPAN 121, or permission. Not offered in 2022-23.
(MOD)

SPAN 266: SURVEY OF LATIN-AMERICAN LITERATURE (4)
Department
Readings from the colonial period through the present. Representative authors include Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz, Echeverría, Martí, Dario, Rulfo, Borges, and Cortázar. Designation: Literature course. Prerequisite: placement, SPAN 112, SPAN 121, or permission. Not offered in 2022-23.
(MOD)

SPAN 290: INDEPENDENT STUDY (2 or 4)
Department
Independent study conducted below the advanced level. Application must be made with faculty prior to registration. Designation: Literature, culture or language course depending on topic. Offered any term.

SPAN 306: SPANISH LITERATURE OF THE GOLDEN AGE (4)
Ridley
Each time this course is offered, a different genre, theme, or author is studied. Designation: Literature course. Prerequisite: 200-level survey course or permission. Not offered in 2022-23.

SPAN 327: HISPANIC WOMEN (4)
Ridley
This course focuses on topics related to Hispanic women, including marianismo, motherhood, domestic violence, trauma, memory, poverty, public and private spaces, and matricide. These topics are studied through literature, film, art, newspaper articles, and scholarly articles. Literature/Culture course. Prerequisites: Placement, 200-level course, or permission. Not offered in 2022-23.
(w, x)

SPAN 341: 20TH- AND 21ST-CENTURY TRANSATLANTIC HISPANIC RELATIONS (4)
Díaz Miranda
This course examines the transatlantic experience focusing on common themes that affect both Spain and Hispanic America and authors, artists, directors, and cultural mediators who have experienced life on both sides of the ocean either as exiles or expatriates. Each time this course is offered, a different theme, genre, or set of authors may be studied. May be repeated for credit if the course addresses a different theme, genre, or authors from the prior enrollment. Designation: Literature/Culture course. Prerequisite: placement, 200-level course, or permission. Not offered in 2022-23.

SPAN 346: TWENTIETH-CENTURY SPANISH LITERATURE (4)
Ridley
Each time this course is offered, a different genre, theme, or author is studied. May be repeated for credit if the course addresses a different theme, genre, or authors from the prior enrollment. Designation: Literature course. Prerequisite: 200-level course or permission. Offered Term 2.
SPAN 348: TWENTIETH-CENTURY LATIN-AMERICAN LITERATURE (4)
Díaz Miranda
Each time this course is offered, a different genre, theme, or author is studied. May be repeated for credit if the course addresses a different theme, genre, or authors from the prior enrollment. Designation: Literature course. Prerequisite: 200-level course or permission. Offered Term 1. (AES)

SPAN 350: SPECIAL TOPIC: US INTERVENTIONS IN LATIN AMERICA (4)
Díaz Miranda
Ever since President James Monroe declared a sort of protectorate over the hemisphere in the early 19th century, a policy now known as the Monroe Doctrine, the United States has intervened in the political affairs of nations across Latin America, often in the service of American commercial interests or to support right-leaning forces against leftist leaders. The course will engage the history and the national cultural productions that stem from the uneven relationship. Issues of imperialism, right-left politics, communism, socialism, fear, and avant-garde movements will be discussed. The readings will be in English translation, and the course will be conducted in English. Offered Term 2.

SPAN 355: INTERNATIONAL COMMERCE IN THE HISPANIC WORLD (4)
Ridley
Introduces basic business principles and commercial terminology. Students will learn how to read, write, and translate standard business letters and forms and how to prepare a curriculum vitae. Most importantly, students learn to interact in the business world of another culture. Designation: Culture/Language course. Prerequisites: q and at least one 200-level course or permission. Not offered in 2022-23. (o, Q, GLO)

SPAN 362: SPANISH TRANSLATION (4)
Ridley
This course focuses on the history of translation and translation theory, as well as the challenges in producing accurate translations due to idioms, false cognates, and differing vocabularies from one Spanish-speaking country to another. We will focus on the importance of contextual translations over literal, word-for-word translations. The course also includes segments on translation in various professions, including business, medicine, and the law. The majority of the class will be dedicated to Spanish to English translation, but some English to Spanish translation will also be included. Designation: Language course. Prerequisite: Placement, one 200-level course, or permission. Offered Term 1.

SPAN 375: ADVANCED SPANISH GRAMMAR (4)
Ridley
In addition to a comprehensive review of Spanish grammar, students will be introduced to some of the more complex points of the Spanish language. Topics will include syntax, morphology, and lexicon. Open to first-year students with permission. Designation: Language course. Prerequisite: Placement, 200-level course, or permission. Not offered in 2022-23.

SPAN 388: TEACHING FOREIGN LANGUAGES (4)
Salès
An examination of language classroom techniques and methodologies of the national standards for foreign language meaning and of assessment techniques for foreign language skills. Students study pedagogical models (Total Physical Response, the Monitor Model, Rational Direct Method, Communicative Competence, the Proficiency Movement, etc.) and develop individualized approaches for the elementary and secondary level. Students demonstrate practical applications of pedagogical models, review articles on techniques and ideas, receive hands-on training in video, audio, CD-ROM, and Internet resources, and complete a final project on a methodological topic. Taught in English, with examples in other languages. Also listed as GRMN 388 and FREN 388. Prerequisite: junior or senior standing. Does not count toward the Spanish major or minor. Offered Term 1.

SPAN 390: INDEPENDENT STUDY (2 or 4)
Department
Independent study conducted at the advanced level. Application must be made with faculty prior to registration. Designation: Literature, culture or language course depending on topic. Offered any term.

SPAN 399: INTERNSHIP (4)
Department
Application must be made with faculty prior to registration. May be proposed for any term.

SPAN 470: SENIOR SEMINAR (4)
Ridley
This seminar provides a capstone experience for Spanish majors and minors. It affords an in-depth study of a particular writer or theme and fosters analytical skills through discussion and writing. At the end of the semester, students will organize a colloquium. Designation: Literature, culture, or language course depending on topic. When Senior Seminar is a stacked course, it will carry the ESP designations assigned to the course with which it is stacked. This year, it is stacked with SPAN 346. Prerequisite: senior standing or permission. Offered Term 2. (w, x)

SPAN 480: SENIOR THESIS (4)
Department
Students have the option of writing a thesis, which will be directed by the department. The thesis serves as a capstone experience. Designation: Literature, culture, or language course depending on topic. Prerequisite: senior majors or minors. Application must be made with faculty prior to registration. Offered both terms.

SPAN 490: SENIOR HONORS THESIS (4, 4)
Department
A student may be invited to write a thesis for departmental honors. For honors candidates, the thesis spans the academic year and culminates in a substantial thesis and a formal defense. Prerequisite: senior majors by invitation only. Designation: Literature, culture, or language course depending on topic.
