12 p.m.-5 p.m.  Eleanor D. Wilson Museum Exhibition
Maria Sibylla Merian (Dutch, b. Germany, 1647-1717) led a fascinating life of travel and scientific pursuits, making important contributions to botany, entomology, and what we now call the field of ecology. By the time she was 32, she had published The Wondrous Transformation of Caterpillars. At age 52, she traveled to the northwest coast of South America, to Surinam, then a Dutch colony, where she spent two years observing, collecting, recording, and documenting plants and the life cycles of the exotic insects of that country. The result was Metamorphosis insectorium Surinamensium, a lavish folio edition featuring 60 beautifully hand-colored copperplate engravings. This exhibition presents 10 of her works, all of which have been loaned by Arader Galleries, New York and Philadelphia.
2-4 p.m.  Fall Festival, Moody Plaza (rain location: back porch of Main)
Join the student affairs staff for fall-themed arts and crafts, including pumpkin carving and hot apple cider.

2-4 p.m.  Honor Roll Press, Wetherill Visual Arts Center, Front Patio
Have you ever wondered how prints are made? Hollins’ very own Honor Roll Press will be printing tee-shirts live using Hollins themed woodcut blocks designed and carved by students in Associate Professor Jennifer D. Anderson’s class. Bring your own tee and watch it be printed right before your eyes or bring some cash and purchase a shirt from us. We may even use our magical unicorn tears solution for special effect. Find us in front of the Wetherill Visual Arts Center or right inside on the first floor if it’s raining. Come join us and spread the ink!

2-4 p.m.  Community Garden Open House, Community Garden, located by lower barn
Enjoy the music of the chapel bells at the Carillon Recital from 3-4 p.m., 4-5 p.m. Fun Friday
