

A Panel Presentation

After 2016: The State of the American Political Party System

Thursday, February 9, 2017 • 7:30 pm
Niederer Auditorium, Wetherill Visual Arts Center

What has been happening both within and between the two major parties in America? What will be the future paths of the Democratic and Republican Party? Is this the beginning of the end of the two party system?

PANELISTS

KAREN HULT, Ph.D.,
University of Minnesota,
Chair, Department
of Political Science,
Virginia Tech

JASON KELLY, Ph.D.,
Columbia University,
Department of Political Science, Virginia Tech

ED LYNCH, Ph.D.,
University of Virginia,
Department of Global Politics and Societies,
Hollins University

HAROLD WILSON, Ph.D.,
Rutgers University,
Director for Institute
for Policy & Opinion
Research, Roanoke
College

Moderated by Jong Ra, Ph.D., University of Illinois, Chair, Department of Global Politics and Societies, Hollins University

HOLLINS
UNIVERSITY