

The Big Picture

- You may experience up to 15 job changes in up to 5 different fields over your lifetime.
- Only 30% of all college graduates work in a job directly tied to their undergraduate major.
- Most jobs don't come from listings, but from personal referrals in your own network.
- Employers value the liberal arts plus significant hands-on work/leadership experience.

Thus, your best strategy is to connect to expand your network, gain leadership and work experience, learn how to highlight your transferable liberal arts skills and take ownership of your career development and life design at Hollins and beyond. The Hollins Career Compass will get you where you need to go!

Who Am I and Where Am I Going? This self-assessment workshop offers you a variety of tools to clarify your values, identify your interests and strengths, overcome challenges, and help you take next steps intentionally.

How Do I Get There? orients you to job hunting resources including the Handshake database, LinkedIn groups, plus Signature and many other internships. Bring a laptop to navigate a landscape of opportunities!

How Did YOU Get There? The Career Connections Conference (C3) on October 1 kicks off a year of mentoring events where alumnae and experts in diverse fields share their insights. Remember: jobs come from networks!

Rockin' the Resume and Cover Letter in Dana computer lab allows you to come in with drafts and walk out with a strategic presentation of your experiences and skills in targeted resumes and cover letters that dovetail.

The Incredible Interview boosts confidence by covering all aspects of preparing for and performing well in job interviews (BigInterview enables online practice and Career Center staff can also run individual mock interviews).

Workplace Etiquette covers essential behavior and communication modes that are standards of professionalism and can "make or break" your reputation at work: dress, dining etiquette and RSVPs, face to face, email and written communications and document management (i.e. how to save your files!). Learn about workplace norms!

Creating Connections - come learn how to grow your professional and personal networks in person and online, since relationships are where amazing mentors and jobs come from. We will discuss how/where/when to network and role-play scenarios so that when opportunities arise, you'll be ready to make fruitful connections!

Dining and Designing a Life You Love – informal chats with the CC team over lunch or dinner, brainstorming life design and stress management to help cultivate well-being on your way to a fulfilling life of consequence.

'19, '20, '21 and '22 Exploration Launches – career advising just for YOUR class. Don't miss your turn!

Daily Walk-Ins allow you to drop into the CC in West with any questions that arise along the way:
Mon-Thurs 3-4 PM and Friday 11 AM- 12 noon
