Humanistic Geography: Uncovering a Sense of Place

Gina Louthian-Stanley '00 is a multimedia artist, writer, and workshop instructor born and living in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia. Louthian-Stanley has worked primarily as a printmaker since the late 1970s. In 2006, she began experimenting with encaustic techniques in which she juxtaposes transparent and opaque layers coupled with unique textures. Louthian-Stanley's works represent physical and emotional sensations which carry the viewer into a narrative inspired by the natural world. She writes, "I pursued my childhood dream of becoming an artist, continuing as a student to earn my B.A. in studio art from Hollins and my master's from Radford University. While I love learning, I also want to help others reach their goals to find their creative voice."

CUBA: Beyond Mambo and Rock 'n Roll

Since the embargo, Cubans have used their creativity, imagination, and ingenuity in daily life. This attitude and quest for freedom for themselves and their country is apparent in each of the artists' work whether they examine human rights, fantastical inventions, or philosophical concerns. CUBA: Beyond Mambo and Rock 'n Roll provides an opportunity to learn about Cuba through the eyes of artists whose work speaks to their nation's history,

7:30 p.m.

Goodnight Moon: The Musical, Theatre, Main Stage

Join Little Bunny at Hollins Theatre for Goodnight Moon! Written by Margaret Wise Brown '32. Adapted by Chad Henry. "This magical musical stage version of Margaret Wise Brown's bedtime classic takes us into the imagination of the child who quite simply is not interested in falling asleep! Imbued with theatre magic, the Great Green Room comes to life before our eyes—the kittens, the mittens, the red balloon, and the cow jumping over the moon, tucked in with a few surprises. Although the book was written for the preschool set, ages three to 103 will be moonstruck by this joyous musical theatre treat." Appropriate for preschoolers and beyond!

8:30-10:30 p.m.

Paint and Sip, Moody Center, the RAT

Come join us for a leisurely evening of painting while enjoying a beverage of your choice. A variety of drinks will be available for free or for purchase. Hollins students are limited to one guest each, and sign-up information will be shared as the event date approaches.
